

Children's Concert Will Be Rare Treat In Music, Dances

Orchestra, Under Penha, Will Render Fine Music And Ruth Austin's Dancers Will Delight
With Christmas Ballet

The orchestra has not been heard since last August, and there isn't anyone—young or old—who should miss the Children's Concert on Friday evening, December 15. All the Christmas spirit will be there, and Santa Claus himself, in the person of little Anne Millis dancing her chubby dance in the Christmas ballet staged by Ruth Austin and danced to the music of Hansel and Gretel played by full orchestra.

The Carmel Music Society has priced the seats for children at twenty-five cents—any seat in the auditorium—and only fifty cents for adults, so every seat in the auditorium may be taken. The orchestra, under the spirited direction of Michel Penha, will play Percy Grainger's rollicking "Shepherd's Hey," the "Fingal's Cave" overture, by Mendelssohn, "Valse Romantique" by Debussy, a Dance by Gounod, the first movement of Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," and conclude with the ballet by Ruth Austin dancers.

The ballet is based on the Christmas rhyme which everyone knows—"Twas the night before Christmas, and all through the house, not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse." Pupils of Ruth Austin who take part are Ann Whitman, Donna Hodges, Harriett Hatton, Vera Hunter, Betty Rae Sutton, Rose Marie Mattimore, Babette De Moe, Gail Johnson, Natalie Hatton, Jacqueline Hodges, Craig Short, Anne Millis, Jennie Clark, Patty Elliot.

Carmel Visitor Helps Gather Autumn Leaves

It's the same old story of the stranger with the beautiful autumn leaves. Miss Mary Hoyt, a school teacher in Petaluma, came to Carmel to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her relatives, the Barnetts, at the Homestead.

Miss Hoyt wanted to give the dining room a festive air and decided to go out and get some decorations. All by herself she gathered them and very charmingly she strewed them about the tables, making a lovely effect. That is, it looked nice until Bill Baffett came into the dining room to admire and with one mighty swoop he got rid of the beautiful leaves.

Bill still carries his poison oak reminders on his arm and the lady herself did not escape.

Teresina, Spanish Dancer, Will Dance Here Saturday

Is Second Attraction of Carmel Music Society Winter
Series; Recognition Accorded Dancer By
King of Spain at Celebration

No one who can save as little as fifty cents or as much as two and a half will be away from the Sunset School auditorium Saturday night, when Teresina, the beautiful Spanish dancer, appears as the second attraction on the Carmel Music Society Winter Series. The king of Spain asked Teresina to dance in celebration of the Goya centennial, thus officially putting the stamp of Spain's recognition of Teresina's dance as an authentic dance of Spain.

Teresina is assisted by Janvier Alfonso, pianist, and Carlos Montoya, guitarist, also imbued and authentically skilled in the music of old and new Spain. Teresina wears the costumes of the province whose dance she is interpreting—Granada, Andalusia, Galicia, Aragon or Gypsy. Her castanets fascinate and enchant, and her tiny heels click to the step of the Jota or glide with that grace that takes one's imagination back to the dark-eyed beauties of the Alhambra. Following is the program for Saturday night's concert:

XMAS SEALS NOW ON SALE

The Monterey county Tuberculosis Association is the new county unit of the California Association, formerly a branch of the Red Cross.

The purpose of this association is to help control the spread of this disease where active and what is of more importance, to discover it in the incipient stages, and prevent it from becoming active. Prevention is cheaper than cure.

The number of seals you buy and the amount you may contribute determine the amount of progress that the Monterey county Tuberculosis Association can make toward the elimination of tuberculosis. The need is here in the county. Your support will be used directly for the needs in the community. This dread disease can be eradicated with all of its attendant expense and misery.

Many seals are in the mail now. Ernest R. Calley, the local chairman, will be glad to supply any others needed.

Mr. McKay's many friends are congratulating him and wishing him success in his ownership. The market will still go under the name "Vining's."

Carmel Woman Killed When Car Turns Over

Two Monterey peninsula residents were killed early yesterday when the roadster in which they were riding turned over near Watsonville. Harry Bennett, 51, Monterey garageman, and Mrs. Alva Kehler, 42, Carmel widow were crushed to death when the roadster's light top collapsed. Mrs. Bennett was able to crawl from under the wreckage and escaped without a scratch. She summoned help but both her husband and Mrs. Kehler were dead, when taken from beneath the car. Wet pavement is believed to have caused the crash which occurred at Werner's Hill, two miles south of Watsonville. The roadster skidded on the turn at the foot of the grade, careened off the highway and turned over.

Boy Scouts Elected District Officers

A very important meeting of the Monterey district scouters was held at the Elks, Hall, Wednesday, December 6 from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

This was the regular monthly meeting (set back one week because of a conflict in dates), but this meeting was particularly important as the new district officers for 1934 were elected. The nominating committee have made their selections, and are now anxious to have you cast your vote.

Another important feature of the meeting was a complete discussion of the new divisional organization of the council—from the executive board down to the troop committees.

Old Fashioned Dance Was Well Attended

The Old Fashioned dance sponsored by the ladies of the Old Mission Guild at Serra Crespi Hall Saturday night was a grand success. There was a large crowd in attendance and everyone had a splendid time.

The polkas and the schottische were too much for those in attendance but some of the old fashioned dances were much enjoyed.

The old fashioned music was in tune with the costumes. Two colonial dames were out in all their splendor, while several civil war belles and beaux were present. Then there were gypsies and even a river boat gambler. Some of the costumes were authentic but mostly they were copies, the dancers of the modern days not being able to wear wasp waists of the age.

Those who didn't dance enjoyed the games and all are hoping that the guild will see fit to stage another of these delightful affairs in the near future.

DOES IT PAY TO SEND CIRCULARS TO CARMEL?

Patrons of the Carmel post office evidently have no regard for circular advertising judging from the hundreds of pieces of such mail which find their way to the waste basket or are simply thrown on the floor as they are taken from the boxes. On the days when such advertising arrives here in bulk, it would be well for the sender to place a sentry here to find out how much money he has wasted.

NEW CITY HALL AND POSTOFFICE DISCUSSED

Following the settlement of the question of the purchase of the grounds belonging to the Forest theatre for a park and playground at the sunset meeting last night, a talk was made by City Attorney Argyll Campbell advocating the employment of the PWA in building a postoffice and a city hall for Carmel.

A vote was taken of those who were present and the proposition found almost unanimous favor.

Atty. Campbell pointed out that the buildings would cost the taxpayers nothing since the money could be borrowed at four per cent which would equal, he said, no more than the rent now paid. In the consideration of a location for the city hall, the city owned property near the beach was discussed.

No definite plans were made for further discussion of the undertaking.

RAIN BLESSED VICINITY SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Rain, much needed and much appreciated, blessed this vicinity Saturday night and Sunday morning and caused the hills and gardens to take on new life.

Cooler weather, however, followed the rain and doors to the business places have had to be kept closed this week. Nevertheless, they all bear the "open" sign, and no one need put off his Christmas shopping.

Telfer Production Pleases Carmel Folk

"Much Ado About Nothing" at the Community Playhouse last week brought out an attendance far too small for a play of such unusual merit. Ronald Telfer and his San Francisco Shakespearean Players brought out all the fine qualities of the time honored classic and every one who attended the performance agreed it was one of the best produced Shakespearean dramas ever seen in Carmel.

Telfer, as Benedick, pleased his audience from the first lines with his poise and mastery of every scene. And he had some excellent support too, although it is impossible to mention in detail each of the twenty members of the cast. Emma Knox as Beatrice, was nothing short of brilliant and carried off her lines consisting for the most part of sharp tongue-darting repartee with a smoothness that at once captivated her listeners.

The Community Playhouse seems to be having a bad break in the way of attendance. Whether this is due to over zealous work on the part of press agents in their ballyhoo of some plays that have fallen pretty flat and amateurish, leaving patrons with the feeling they have been bilked, or whether it is the hard times, the weather, or politics the fact remains that good productions at the Community Playhouse are having a patronage that hardly pays the cost of electric lights.

Russian Singer Pleases With Native Songs

Walevitch, Russian singer at the Denny-Watrous gallery brought a little of the Old Russia to Carmel folks last week. In native costume and playing his accompaniment on a lute, Walevitch sang impressively of peasant folk, gypsies, hunting songs, and those haunting melodies of the soldierly.

Walevitch is a singer of more than ordinary ability and left Carmel a vivid picture of his native land. Mrs. Walevitch, a New Englander, had a sympathy and charm that made the evening complete.

"Death Takes Holiday" Draws Large Crowd

Perhaps it was due to the fact that the leading parts were taken by three well known people of the stage or perhaps it was something else, but anyway the largest crowd in its history attended the play reading at the Pine Inn last Monday night.

"Death Takes A Holiday," was the play and the three leading parts were taken by Frederic Burt, Helen Ware and Frank Sheridan. Other readers were Mr. Dickson, Lloyd Weir, Dr. Williams, Eugene Watson, Guy Koepp, Mrs. J. L. Cockburn, Mrs. DeWitt Blamer, Mrs. O. W. Bardarson, Mrs. Ivy Van Cott, and Ida Jean Hyde.

The next play will be "Sun-Up" a mountaineer drama, and will be directed by Mrs. DeWitt Blamer.

INTERESTING CARMEL

Interesting things about Carmel

Choosing first portrait painting, then landscapes, then marines and at different times going back to one or the other, Edda Maxwell Heath has developed her abilities as an artist until she is able to handle any subject.

Personally we liked her portraits best, though even as we write it, we can't keep those beautiful landscapes of her New Jersey home from our thoughts. One little brook there by its many crooks and turns afforded many different scenes, which combined with the background of trees in autumn leaves, produce that feeling of vague longing which a good picture always brings.

In 1928 Miss Heath came to Carmel to get California pictures to round out her exhibition in New York, and immediately she knew where she wanted to spend the rest of her days. When she finished up her affairs in the East sufficiently she returned and now lives in a lovely cottage surrounded by a typical Carmel flower garden, on Casanova.

Miss Heath was a pupil of William M. Chase, and Arthur Dow, and a member and a classmate of F. Luis Mora.

You'll enjoy a trip to Miss Heath's studio as she has that rare gift of putting her visitors at ease the minute they cross the threshold.

Carmel Valley Growers To Receive Refund

The board of directors of the California Fruit Exchange, at their regular monthly meeting held at Sacramento, authorized the distribution of a refund to its membership slightly in excess of $275,000. This sum represents earnings on 1927 shipments and will be distributed about December 15th. Members of the Carmel Valley Fruit Growers association will receive a total of $1,700.

General manager J. L. Nagle, in announcing the action of the board, said, "This payment marks the resumption of annual refunds or earnings which have been paid to members of the California Fruit Exchange for 26 consecutive years, with the exception of 1932. No refund was paid last year because many growers' accounts were carried over, due to the extremely low prices."

Nagle reported that the average price paid per carload for fresh deciduous fruit handled by the organization this year has been $142 higher than in 1932.

Formal Opening of Art Society's Gallery This Sunday

Exhibition to be Held From December 10 to January
10; John O'Shea Elected President; Curator
Appointed; Meeting Well Attended

Election of officers, appointment of a curator, setting the date for opening and many other items of interest were taken up at the meeting of the Art Association held at the new gallery last Sunday afternoon.

Although the time is short for preparations, the association cordially invites the public to attend the official opening next Sunday afternoon from three to five. For the first showing each member is asked to bring a small picture, not larger than 16 by 20.

There was a large attendance and a great deal of enthusiasm at the meeting and the following artists were chosen as members of the board:

William Ritschel, Paul Dougherty, Armin Hansen, Burton S. Boundey, Arthur Hill Gilbert,

Three to two the vote stood on the question of the city's acceptance of a deed to the Forest Theatre property in Eighty Acres at the regular meeting of the council last evening.

The chamber was crowded with interested persons on both sides of the proposition and many cryptic remarks were bandied back and forth. But at the end of the meeting everyone was of the same opinion still and when the transfer of the deed is made, work for the unemployed will begin at once.

Herbert Heron, council member and member of the Forest Theatre board, promised that the legal technicalities would be cleared up by noon today.

Through its acceptance of the property, Carmel became the owner of sixteen lots in an excellent part of the town, valued at depression prices at $900 per lot. With the furnishing of about $700 worth of supplies, and trucks and superintendents by the city the government under the CWA will put to work between thirty and forty unemployed at wages ranging from 45 cents an hour to $1.10 depending upon the class of work. It is estimated that this will put into circulation in Carmel within the next few weeks, about $9,000.

The total cost of the theatre grounds has been estimated at $4500. This includes truck hire and superintendent's wages, which of course will not have to be met with money paid out directly at this time. The actual cost is $900 to take care of local bills made by the theatre company during depression times, a mortgage of $550 to be assumed and the tax assessments to be taken care of, $450 of which is due to the city.

Thus by the expenditure of about $1750 the council has made available jobs for the unemployed, has secured $9,000 of government money to be put in circulation here, and will provide a permanent park and playground for the citizens and Carmel's summer guests.

The improvement plan calls for two tennis courts, the rebuilding of the stage and the fencing of the grounds with redwood slabs.

The government field inspector was here Tuesday and looked over the proposition, giving it as his opinion that the project would be confirmed at once.

As a counter project, Mayor Catlin offered the grading of Junipero to make a connecting highway with the county highway, and the retaining wall on Dolores was also discussed.

Those voting for the Forest Theatre park were Councilman Jordan, Heron and Kellogg, which Mayor Catlin and Councilman Norton voted against.

COMMUNICATION

Editor Carmel Sun:

I AM PROUD OF CARMEL. Due to existing conditions, it was unreasonable to expect Carmel to contribute as much to the Community Chest as was given a year ago.

Two thousand dollars seemed a fair amount we could hope to collect in Carmel this year and I am happy to report that nearly $2200 has been pledged or paid.

We hope to receive some more from those who have not decided how much they can give.

I want to thank the people of Carmel and particularly the Chest workers who have given so generously of their time and efforts in this campaign.

Sincerely yours,
Bernard Rowntree.

JAMES J. JEFFRIES TO REFEREE FIGHTS AT SALINAS DECEMBER 22

By Sports Editor

One of the last of the grand old men of the ring, James J. Jeffries, the man who put Bob Fitzsimmons to sleep years ago, will be the third man in the ring at Salinas December 22.

Dempsey and Jeffries are the last two of the old champs.

Fight promoter Mitchell believes in giving the fans a run for their money and rumor has it that he is going to make an effort to bring Primo Canero to referee at some future date.

"Big Mitch" is going to have an all-star card that will be as good as the card Jack Dempsey refereed.

Frank Dalton is going against Louie Maize in a rematch. The boys fought on the last card and put up the best fight of the night. Dalton was out on his feet in the second round but staged a great come-back to win the fight.

Fighting Bob Dalton is getting his first fight since school started and he is in great shape. The hard fighting Carmel school boy is a crowd pleaser. He has not lost a fight up to date. With both Dalton boys on the same card a large crowd of fans are expected to make the trip.

"Lady for a Day"

At Carmel Theatre

There's an "underground telegraph" system in Hollywood which, for the quick transmission of news, hasn't any equal in the world.

Hollywood lives on the picture business. Everybody in the town is indirectly interested in picture making. The payrolls of the studios support a big share of its population; other industries are dependent upon the studios for their livelihood and merchants depend upon studio payrolls for prosperity and profit.

With a population so interested in the actual making of pictures, it is no wonder that news travels through the city thoroughly and quickly. News of proposed pictures, or signings of stars or the dropping of others is common property before even the alert movie-columnists have a chance to publish it.

Nothing seems to travel more rapidly nor more thoroughly than the news of a "hit" picture. The good news is on everyone's tongue days before the facts are printed.

An example of this speedy "underground" was apparent in the case of Columbia's "Lady For a Day," which is showing at the Carmel Theatre.

Previewed at a Los Angeles theater, it was acclaimed a smash hit. Before morning the news had spread all over town. In the morning telephone calls, telegrams and letters began to pour in upon the stars and players of the picture, congratulating them upon their success in the production. Around the corner drug stores, hotbeds of gossip and rumor, the word had gone around, and before noon Hollywood's hundred thousand population was aware that "Lady For a Day" was a hit.

"Hit" pictures, of course, mean better times for everyone dependent upon the industry. It means a re-awakened interest on the part of theater-goers and stimulates theater business for some time after the showing. That, in turn, means more and better productions, and larger payrolls.

Warren William, star of the picture, May Robson and Frank Capra, director, were called on the phone at least a dozen times each on the night after the previews by friends and acquaintances who "had just heard about the picture" and wanted to congratulate players and director. The next day rival studios were buzzing with the news that "Columbia has a hit." Other stars, directors and writers began calling up Columbia asking the courtesy of being shown the picture before it reached a regular theater run.

As a panhandler and drunkard, Jack Terrell, Monterey, was sentenced to six months in the county jail. Terrell had been given a fender before, but had returned. James Riley, who was arrested with him, was sentenced to 90 days but the sentence was suspended on condition that he leave Monterey county for the next six months.

Pacific Grove enforced their anti-peddler ordinance this week when Raymond Pullian, Monterey, was found guilty of selling San Jose lynch pictures in that city. He was given his choice of a fine of $20 or ten days in jail. The sentence was suspended on good behavior.

Delayed by bankruptcy proceedings forced upon the Monte Regio Corporation by creditors, sale of a large block of Monterey residential property to satisfy tax and street improvement claims of the city of Monterey against the corporation, was continued until Dec. 9.

Morris Smith, 69 year old Monterey pioneer, passed away at a local hospital last week as the result of an attack of pneumonia. Smith had been visiting at Big Sur with his daughter, Mrs. Percy James. He had not been in good health and was rushed to Monterey. He passed on shortly after being admitted to the hospital.

The last pile for the breakwater trestle was driven Saturday afternoon and the structure from which rock for the Monterey sea wall is being dumped now extends a little more than 1600 feet from shore. A total of 37,000 tons of rock was dumped during November on the 400 foot extension of the breakwater, officials of the Guy F. Atkinson company reported and it is expected that half of the 116,000 tons needed for the extension will be in place before the end of this month. A total of 87 men, 65 employed by the Atkinson company and 22 by the Johnson Truck company, contractor for the rock hauling, are now working on the federal project. Completion of the breakwater is set for the middle of next summer.

Gross Negligence Causes Great Damage

When Claire Foster got his mail after an absence of a day or two he stepped across the street to the Woman's Exchange and laid his letters and papers on the counter. William Campbell, reading his name, said, "So you're Mr. Foster. I picked up some typewritten sheets on the street about two hours ago that belong to you." Mr. Foster recognized the manuscript as having come from a friend in Iowa, but a part of it was gone. Mr. Campbell then sent him to a nearby store and he found yet another section. When he took the matter up with his friend in Iowa, he found that not all of it had yet been recovered and that his friend had sent him his file copies which can not be replaced.

Mr. Foster is justly incensed. He does not hold the postal clerks responsible since he recognizes that with so many boxes as Carmel has there are bound to be mistakes, but he does feel that anyone who would deliberately open another's mail and throw it down on the street is guilty of an unpardonable offense.

It is hoped there is not more than one such person in Carmel and that fate may never again put any one else's mail in his hands.

Thanksgiving Services Held at Church

The regular Thanksgiving Day service held at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmel, was attended by a congregation that filled the auditorium and annex.

After the opening hymn, the First Reader read the Thanksgiving Proclamation, and a scriptural selection. The congregation then joined in a few moments of silent prayer, followed by the audible repetition of the Lord's Prayer with all its spiritual interpretation as given in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.

The Thanksgiving lesson-sermon was then read, the Golden Text being from II Corinthians: "All things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God."

One of the scriptural passages contained in the lesson-sermon was from the 75th Psalm: "Unto thee, O God, do we give thanks, unto thee do we give thanks: for that thy name is near thy wondrous works declare."

One of the correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook was as follows: "To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of gratitude for all that he has done." After the solo, testimonies were given by the congregation, expressing gratitude for healing and spiritual growth, and for the leavening effects of the application of Christian Science, both at home and abroad.

Red Cross Receives More Than Quota Set

Carmel people responded well this year to the call of the Red Cross, not only making the quota of $3000 but going over by more than $100, and still more promised.

Last year the budget was $2,500 and anticipating more calls this winter on account of being the only relief agency operating, the officers asked for an additional $500.

With CWA labor provided for the unemployed, it would appear that conditions here this winter may not become acute.

NRA IS FUNCTIONING ACCORDING TO HEAD

"Because things have been done so quietly many seem to think the NRA board is not functioning," said Fred Becholdt, local head, to a Carmel Sun reporter Tuesday.

Mr. Becholdt said several minor violations had been reported and had all been cleared up satisfactorily. He is very anxious that any who know of "chiselers" should report to him.

Mr. Becholdt also desires to call attention to the fact that the NRA board has ruled that Carmel is not exempt from the NRA because it has not quite 2500 people. The ruling is due to the fact that Carmel is a part of an adjacent trade area of a much larger population.
